Important Information:

1. The AI proctor will calculate the credibility score automatically.
2. Any unusual activity detected in the Screen, Sound, or Camera by the proctor will result in marks being deducted.

The credibility score during an online examination is determined based on the examinee's adherence to the examination guidelines. The score is reduced in the following situations:

1. The presence of another person within the camera frame.
2. Excessive movement by the examinee during the exam.
3. Significant background noise detected during the examination.
4. Switching tabs or navigating away from the examination window.

A lower credibility score results in a deduction of marks, emphasizing the importance of maintaining focus and integrity throughout the exam.
